Trial delayed Illness stalls Chouteau case

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

The trial over Madison's annexation of the lower half of Chouteau Island has been delayed because of a judge's illness.

The trial had been set for Wednesday, but has been delayed indefinitely because Circuit Judge John DeLaurenti has been ill.

Some of DeLaurenti's cases have been assigned to Associate Judge Louis Mallott, but workers in the Madison County Circuit Clerk's office said Friday the Chouteau Island case has been delayed.

At stake is municipal control of the southern part of the island, the Chain of Rocks Landfill and the Old Chain of Rocks Bridge.

MADISON

In October 1996 the city of Madison annexed approximately 640 acres on the lower half of Chouteau Island. The actual annexations involved eight individual tracts of land, all owned by Waste Management Inc.

Later, Madison County State's Attorney Bill Haine filed a complaint seeking to block that annexation, saying the action was unconstitutional.

The annexed property extends from the southern end of the island to Interstate 270, and includes sections of the interstate because the city will

One dead after three-car crash

A 69-year-old Moro woman was killed Friday morning in a three-vehicle accident on Highway 111 about a half-mile north of Interstate 270.

Norma L. Schon, of the 8000 block of St. James Drive, Moro, was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident at 9:26 a.m., said Roger Smith, an investigator with the Madison County Coroner's office.

Three vehicles — a tractor-trailer, a GMC pickup and a Chevrolet convertible — were involved.

The Illinois State Police and the Edwardsville Police Department are investigating the crash, which occurred at about 8:40 a.m. Friday.

Also injured was Christine Woolsey of South Roxana, who was taken to an area hospital.

Schon, driving a 1992 GMC pickup, was southbound on Hwy. 111 when a northbound 1996 Mack tractor-trailer driven by John E. Carrol of Shattuc, Ill. jackknifed and struck her vehicle, which burst into flames, Smith said. Carrol was not injured.

Carrol had apparently attempted to stop for another northbound vehicle attempting to make a left turn off of Hwy. 111.

Woolsey was driving a 1991 Cavalier convertible, also (See CRASH, Page 4A)

Madison tables action on holding cells fee

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Action on a fee for holding prisoners at the Madison city jail was tabled because of questions about the city's liability for prisoners.

At Tuesday's City Council meeting, Mayor John Hamm said Police Chief Steve Skoklo and City Attorney Casper Nghobian would look into the liability question.

Skoklo had proposed charging a $30 per day fee for housing prisoners from other agencies.

The proposal would affect only those agencies and departments that do not have their own holding facilities. For the Madison Police Department, that would apply primarily to prisoners from the Pontoon Beach Police Department, which has no holding facility.

Madison, Venice and Granite City occasionally house prisoners for each other.

In other business, the council approved paying Madison County $250 for a compact disc containing all county plats and maps.

Alderman Steve Hampsey asked if St. Clair County had anything similar, and was told that it was in the works.

By now most of the decorations are down, the tree has been recycled, and Christmas is over.

Not quite. For members of the Armenian Orthodox and some other orthodox churches, the actual celebration of the birth of Christ will take place Jan. 5-6.

Auction provides Valentine chance

Illinois Center for Autism schedules benefit 'sweetheart' event

By Kimberly Haas
Staff writer

Looking for the perfect Valentine's Day gift? The Illinois Center for Autism's Third Annual Sweetheart Auction and Dinner Benefit could be just the answer you're looking for.

Weekend getaways, handcrafted items, and baskets filled with gourmet treats are just a sample of items to be put on the bidding block Feb. 7 at the St. Clair Country Club in Belleville.

Items up for bid were donated by businesses and individuals, said Cathie Schrage, director of marketing for ICA.

"There have been people supporting us for years now," Schrage said. The cost of the auction and dinner is $45 per person, including a wine and cheese reception.

"It's a good opportunity to celebrate with loved ones and to help the kids (at the center)."

Cathie Schrage
marketing director

The event kicks off with a silent auction at 6 p.m., followed by dinner at 7:30 and a live auction at 8:30.

Other items available at the auction will include an autographed pennant by Chicago Bulls' basketball player Scottie Pippen, a script autographed by Alan Alda from the M*A*S*H set, along with other movie and sports memorabilia.

In addition, weekend getaways to bed and breakfasts will be offered, along with baskets filled with an assortment of gifts.

"It's a good opportunity to celebrate with loved ones and to help the kids (at the center)," Schrage said. All proceeds benefit individuals with autism.

The 20-year-old ICA is a nonprofit community-based mental health treatment and educational agency dedicated to serving people with autism and their families.

The Fairview Heights-based center's mission is to prevent the unnecessary institutionalization of individuals with autism and help them achieve the highest level of independence possible within their home, school, and community.

For more information or to purchase tickets for the auction and dinner, call the center at 398-7500.

Secretary of State George H. Ryan has announced a new public awareness campaign aimed at teaching young drivers, their parents and high school driving instructors the ins and outs of Illinois' new graduated drivers licensing law, which takes effect Jan. 1.

The Northbrook-based Allstate Insurance Company is teaming up with Ryan to produce a multifaceted education program that informs young drivers, parents, teachers, law enforcement officials and the courts about the new "Graduate to Safety" law.

A newsletter, workbooks and a video will be distributed in schools, libraries and the state's 137 driver services facilities.

Illinois is the 13th state in the nation to initiate a three-step licensing system for its youngest motorists.

Currently, Illinois has a two-step system comprised of a learner's permit and a full driver's license.

The new system will retain the learner's permit and the full license, but will add a "graduated" step for drivers aged 16 to 17 that includes tougher penalties for violating traffic laws and new practices, requirements for learning drivers.

"This new law does not — I repeat, does not — raise the driving age. Young people will still be able to get their drivers' licenses at age 16," Ryan said.

"The tougher penalties are intended to drive home to young motorists that a car is a tremendous responsibility and that mistakes behind the wheel can affect their lives, the lives of their friends and the lives of others on the road."

"We enthusiastically support Illinois' new 'Graduate to Safety' law and feel certain it will make Illinois highways safer to travel," said Darryl Page, Illinois regional vice president of Allstate Insurance Company.

"As a leading automobile insurer and advocate of safe driving, we will actively pursue similar legislation in states throughout the U.S."

Currently, teen-agers make up 6 percent of the total driving population in Illinois — about 460,000 motorists — but are responsible for 16 percent of the fatal automobile crashes when they are behind the wheel. Nationally, 67 percent of all teen passenger deaths occur in crashes when another teenager is driving.

Also, drivers aged 16 and 17 are about six times more likely to be involved in a traffic crash than drivers of all age groups combined. Among all drivers, 16-year-olds have the highest fatal crash rate and are the most likely to be ticketed.

"Graduate to Safety" is aimed at reducing the death toll among the state's youngest and most inexperienced drivers by quickly identifying problem drivers and getting them into remedial programs; by involving parents more in the behind-the-wheel practice.

Under current law, drivers under age 18 cannot be licensed unless they have a

"Graduate to Safety" is aimed at reducing the death toll among the state's youngest and most inexperienced drivers by quickly identifying problem drivers and getting them into remedial programs; by involving parents more in the behind-the-wheel practice.

Under current law, drivers under age 18 cannot be licensed unless they have a parent's permission and have completed an approved drivers education course offering 30 hours of classroom instruction and six hours of behind-the-wheel practice.

Under the "Graduate to Safety" law:

➤ Drivers under the age of 21 who are convicted of two moving violations within a two-year period would receive a 30-day license suspension. Drivers under the age of 18 who are suspended would have to complete a remedial driving course and be re-tested to get their driving privileges back.

➤ Drivers under the age of 21 who commit serious driving offenses are limited to one sentence of court supervision by a judge.

➤ When the driver is under 18, all passengers in the car under the age of 18 must wear safety belts. Additionally for those drivers, the number of passengers in the vehicle is limited to one in the front seat and to a number of safety belts in the back seat.

➤ Before a 16-year-old can be awarded a driver license, his parent or guardian must certify that the young driver has completed at least 25 hours of supervised behind-the-wheel instruction outside of their drivers ed class. Young drivers must hold a learner's permit for at least three months before attempting to receive their first license.

The "Graduate to Safety" law was sponsored in the Senate by state Sen. Beverly Fawell, R-Glen Ellyn and John Cullerton, D-Chicago; and in the House by state Rep. Corinne G. Wood, R-Lake Forest and state Rep. Joseph M. Lyons, D-Chicago.

TeleFile arriving

The key to filing your federal tax return by telephone could be in your mailbox.

Nationwide, about 25 million taxpayers will receive the TeleFile tax package in the mail by early January.

If you receive the TeleFile tax package, hold on to it — even if it's too early to start thinking about your taxes.

It contains the special customer service number you will need to file by phone using the Internal Revenue Service TeleFile system.

If you lose your package, it can't be replaced and you won't be able to TeleFile.

TeleFile is the system that lets people file simple tax returns by phone. It's free, easy and available 24 hours a day/seven days a week.

The system does all the computations and files your return over the telephone in about 10 minutes.

And, you get your refund in about three weeks.

Last year, over 4.5 million people nationwide took advantage of this accurate and quick option and filed their federal tax returns by phone using TeleFile.

State teams with MADD

The Illinois Department of Natural Resources is joining Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) and local, state, and national organizations in urging motorists to display red ribbons on their vehicles through New Year's Day as a reminder to drive sober during the holidays and throughout the year.

"Again this year, Mothers Against Drunk Driving is asking motorists to "Tie One on

For Safety" to send a clear and resounding message that drunken driving has not gone away," said IDNR Director Brent Manning.

The Department of Natural Resources is supporting this national public awareness campaign by making red ribbons available to motorists and asking them to promote safety by tying the ribbon to their vehicle's outside rear-view mirror, antenna or other visible location.

"MADD is focused on saving lives and preventing injuries," said Brad Fralick, executive director for MADD in Illinois. "We hope this program continues to increase awareness during the holiday season and all year long."

The Department's Conservation Police will have the ribbons tied to their vehicles throughout December.

Car winterization important — now

By Kimberly Haas
Staff writer

A winterized vehicle will help save motorists from trouble in the cold months ahead. "(Automobile) shops get overloaded in the winter. It's better to beat the rush and winterize early," said Wayne Young, director of Automotive

Services with the American Automobile Association in St.

Young said that in the winter months AAA handles about 150 calls per hour from stranded motorists.

"A lot of times, it's just case where people left their headlights on," he said.

However, the colder the weather, the harder it is on the vehicle. Consequently, AAA offers the following advice for motorists:

- Have a sufficient amount of antifreeze in your vehicle radiator, preferably a 50-50 mixture of antifreeze and water.
- Make sure your vehicle's battery is the proper size and the terminals are clean.

- Try to keep your gas tank filled above the half-way point. Otherwise, condensation in the tank can cause water droplets to freeze in the fuel line, Young said.

• Check to be sure your oil is the proper weight. If it is too heavy, it can cause the engine to crank over slowly, Young said.

- Check your vehicle's tires. With every 10 degree temperature drop, the pressure in the car's tires drop about 1 pound, Young said.

"Just make sure your car is properly tuned up," Young said.

ORGANIZATIONS

Amvets

The regular Amvets Auxiliary 51 meeting was presided over by President Mary Miller. Acting Chaplain Jackie Rainwater read the prayer and acting Sergeant-at-Arms Betty Clements led the Pledge of Allegiance. Secretary Shirley Schlegel read the minutes of the last meeting and thank-you notes from: the T.R. Webb family, Marge Smith, Florence Pierson, and a special thanks from New Opportunities for the donation to their Christmas party. Treasurer Carol Jarrett gave a financial report.

Hospital chairperson Mary Miller reported AMVETS and Auxiliary visited Jefferson Barracks Medical Center Dec. 2 for a Christmas party with patients. Money in cards was passed out, bingo with cash prizes was played and refreshments were enjoyed by all. President Miller reported baskets for Thanksgiving were delivered to people in need by members of AMVETS and Auxiliary. Child Welfare Chairperson Jackie Rainwater announced a new project to help support John Tracy Clinic. All members are asked to save dimes in baby food jars. Jackie will collect these jars in February and send the money to John Tracy Clinic. President Miller announced the next Division 5 meeting will be at Post 51 on Jan. 11 at 1 p.m. The meeting was closed with prayer. Hostess Shirley Schlegel served refreshments immediately following the meeting.

Township officials

At the 90th Annual Educational Conference of the Township Officials of Illinois, Nov. 9-13 in Peoria, Chouteau Township Clerk Barbara A. Overton was elected to a two-year term as Secretary of the Clerk's Division.

This Division represents the 1433 Township Clerks in the state of Illinois. Other township clerks elected to Township Offices were: President Ralph Erikson, Rock Island; first Vice President Carol Bertulis, Naperville; second Vice President Charles Lenz, Geneseo; third Vice President Jean Friend, Decatur; Treasurer Ethel Rodriguez, Orland Park; and Secretary Barbara Overton, South Roxana.

Overton formerly held a two-year term in this division as education director for Zone 4, which included the clerks in the southern third of the state. She is the current president of the Madison County Township Officials Organization. She and her husband, Jerry, reside in South Roxana.

Butterfly Card

On Nov. 24, members of the Butterfly Card Club met at Jerry's Restaurant for lunch. Plans were made for the Christmas meeting after which pinocchio was played and prizes awarded to the winners.

Happy Birthday was sung to Irene Willis, Catherine Hommert and Juanita Rosenburg, with each receiving a monetary gift.

After enjoying a delicious lunch buffet at Charlie's, members met at the home of Hazel Rollins for the December meeting. The Club House was festively decorated in keeping with the holiday season and dessert was served from a table decorated in the Christmas theme.

Members of the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council pose with food received at the Madison Festival of Giving, held Dec. 18.

Girl Scout festival nets canned goods for needy

Several Madison Girl Scout troops from River Bluffs Girl Scout Council held their annual Festival of Giving Christmas Party Thursday, Dec. 18, at the Madison Recreation Center. However, the party took on more of a giving then receiving atmosphere as the Girl Scouts attending the party each brought a canned or boxed food item which will be donated to local needy families.

"The girls really enjoy the Festival of Giving Christmas Party and they feel great about being able to help those less fortunate than themselves at Christmas," said Kim Simmons, River Bluffs Girl Scout Membership Development Manager.

"This food drive is just another small way the Girl Scouts show their appreciation for the continued support of the local communities, especially during our recent Girl Scout Cookie Sale," Ms. Simmons added.

More than 100 girls attended the Festival of Giving Christmas Party, which included a visit by Santa Claus. River Bluffs Girl Scout Council is a nonprofit organization serving more than 10,000 girls and 2,500 adult volunteers in a 5½-county jurisdiction including Jersey, Calhoun, Madison, Monroe, St. Clair and parts of a Macoupin, Clinton and Randolph counties.

Host families needed for students

Foreign high school students are scheduled to arrive soon for academic semester homestays, and the sponsoring organization needs a few more local host families.

According to Pacific International Exchange (PIE) Executive Director John Doty, the students are all between the ages of 15 and 18 years, are English-speaking, have their own spending money, carry accident and health insurance, and are anxious to share their cultural experiences with their new American families.

January brings...

New Year's resolutions, coooold weather and the first 1998 edition of the ST. LOUIS 11 KIDS PAGE.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

"Leave It On 11"

Try this one, screw to your friend that you have 11 fingers! Hold up both of your hands in front of your friend and ask, "How many fingers do you see?" Your friend will say, "Ten!" You reply, "Ten? Well, probably right, 'but'! You reply, 'Ten? Well, I have 11 fingers! Count backwards from 10, and finger at a time, on your right hand. Then add the five fingers on your left hand and you will get a total of 11 fingers. '10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, plus 5 on my left hand equals 11!'

"YOU Can Make A CHANGE"

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION... MAKE A "CHANGE"! The holidays are over and there's nothing to do. WHAT? We have a very special something for ALL of you to do. Take this article to your teacher and suggest that your whole classroom or even your group of friends make a "change". ST. LOUIS 11 KIDS is collecting extra school participate and then everyone can make a "change". ST. LOUIS 11 KIDS is collecting extra school participate and then everyone can make a "change". ST. ENTERTAINMENT

HOROSCOPE

SUNDAY, JANUARY 4
This afternoon, the moon transits into Leo, and you might be inspired to step into the center of attention. A bold career move will lead to a raise or promotion at best and a warm response by your colleagues at worst. You may have the opportunity to date, but committed love requires hard work now. Make sure you get credit for your own ideas. ARIES (March 21-April 19). Talk about your technical skills, and you'll have more clients than you can handle. Say goodbye to an unfeeling companion. Excitement and opportunity will be yours if you just recognize your hidden abilities.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Keeping your word will attract a secret admirer. You should dodge unwelcome requests. Intricate romantic plans are lucky. Make sure a new lover isn't already married. A hidden resentment will sabotage your relationships.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Your travel plans should not be altered. Invest in real estate, stocks and new businesses. Music, art and sales are areas where you vault over your competitors. Give your boss an ultimatum, and you will get a raise.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Subtle messages from your family can carry great weight. If you level with advisers and friends, you'll get immediate help. You handle pressure beautifully. Give your attention to letters and requests.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). If you do battle over your beliefs, you will discover who your friends are. Examine your financial accounts. A new image is vital if you want to move up the corporate ladder. Game-playing can work wonders in romance.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Jan. 4). You are more daring than ever this year. Pushing your personal limits will bring fantastic luck. If you get cold feet next month, go forward anyway. Your anxiety will diminish the instant you start a project. The best months to ask for a raise or start a new job are February and March. You could marry in May.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Don't try to understand your family's actions — just go along. Frustration will hinder your creativity. Don't waste your time. Develop your concentration skills by training your mind to stay on one endeavor today.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You could find romance with a former boss. Job interviews will be successful. Get estimates in writing; a low price may not be as good as it appears. Your energy puts you at the right place at the right time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Your problems in romance are just an excuse not to work. Be honest, especially with yourself. Sloppy study methods could undo a lot of your past work. Take responsibility at work without being asked.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Double the exotic or the unexplored. A romance flares up quickly. Your financial sacrifice will ensure the health of a loved one. Your experience makes you invaluable to your boss.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Let your imagination run wild, and improbable dreams will inspire you. Express your admiration to a colleague who deserves it. Avoid exhausting trips right now. It is better to stay home and conserve your energy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Financial luck comes to you through negotiations. Your influential friends are eager to include you in new projects. Your spouse is afraid that you no longer care. Your reassurance will improve your relationship.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). You are halfway to achieving your goals. Don't alter your course midstream. Your leisure activities are disappointing unless you prepare ahead of time. You will beat your competitors.

Eight and Forty

Madison County Salon 53 of the Eight and Forty held its meeting on Dec. 18 at the home of Judy Zimmerman in Highland. Dinner was served to 22 members.
 The business meeting was conducted by Wanda Taylor, Chaperain. Dorothy Scott, Children and Youth Chairman, reported the items donated for the diaphanous to be sent to the National Jewish Center in Denver, Colo. after New Year's Day.
 These bags will be given to new patients as they are awaiting treatment or examinations at the hospital.
 Irene Schneck, Nurses Scholarship Chairman, collected $80 for this fund. $50 was sent to the Departmental for the scholarship fund.
 Lucille Korameyer, Partnership
 Chairman, reported contacting ones tiansen of Galesburg, Ill. for the luncheon and gifts in Nov.

The attendance prize was won by Marjorie Rosenthal of New Douglas.
 A birthday card was signed for Thelma Ticker, a Past Departmental Chapeau from Alton, who will be celebrating her 90th birthday on Dec. 20.

Business meeting was adjourned and Christmas paper games were played and enjoyed by all. Christmas carols were sung, led by Marjorie Rosenthal at the piano. A gift exchange followed.

Next meeting will be held in Highland on Jan. 20 at noon.

Those attending from this area were: Mary Ballentine, Frances Cowley, Kate Buechele, Norma Hilmer and Dorothy Hinson.

Eagles Auxiliary

The meeting was opened by Mildred Boyd with four officers present due to sickness and the weather. The pro tem officers were outside guard, Barbara Ramsey; chaplain, Millie Weatherford; and trustee, Betty Taylor.
 A thank-you letter was read from the Salvation Army, and another from Auxiliary Mother Hilda Melton.

 be annexing adjoining property.

At the time of the annexation, city officials said the reason for the annexation was to help Gateway Trailnet renovate the Old Chain of Rocks Bridge as a pedestrian bicycle trail, the annexation would also transfer jurisdiction over any landfill expansion from the county to the city.

City officials have also said they have been looking into the possibilities of recreational facilities on the island.
 The annexations were made possible through legislation by State Sen. Evelyn Bowles, D-Edwardsville. Despite the Republican-controlled legislature, she was able to add an amendment to an existing bill to allow the annexations.

The amendment allows the city to bypass federally-owned land to reach the Chouteau Island property.
 The amendment is so narrowly written that it could apply only to the city of Madison.

Haine said in his suit that because it was so narrowly written it may be unconstitutional.

In suing the city, Haine said he was using his office's powers of Quo Warranto, which allows the state's attorney to question the constitutionality of state law.

You asked...so we delivered.

At Memorial Maternity Center, we strive to meet your needs. We asked our patients what was important to them.

As a result, we've added some childbirth education classes as well as changed some existing ones to meet your needs. Our childbirth education classes will help you prepare for a birth experience that will meet your expectations!

Prepared Childbirth Class
 This class provides eight hours of in-depth preparation for labor and birth, including breathing and relaxation exercises. Options for you and your baby's care at Memorial Maternity Center will be shared to help make your birth a personalized and positive experience. Participants are encouraged to register before the fifth month of pregnancy and attendance is limited to those delivering at Memorial. There is a $25 per couple fee. Call 257-5855 for class dates and times.

Childbirth Refresher Class
 The Childbirth Refresher Class is designed to give experienced parents updated information about the latest trends in labor, delivery and newborn care. Limited to those who will deliver at Memorial, this class is held from 7 to 9 p.m. on the first Monday of the month. $5 per couple fee. For more information, call 257-5855.

Vaginal Birth After Cesarean (VBAC) Class
 This class addresses questions about vaginal births after cesarean (VBAC) and why VBAC's can be safer than repeat cesarean deliveries for both mother and baby. You also will learn how to maximize your chances of having a vaginal birth. Class meets 7-9 p.m. on the fourth Tuesday of the month. It is free to those attending Prepared Childbirth or Refresher Classes (we strongly recommend attending these as well) or $5 fee per couple if not taking these classes. Call 257-5855 to register.

Baby Care and Parenting Classes
 This two-session program teaches you how to care for, play with and protect your infant from birth to age 12 months. Topics presented include: newborn care, infant feeding, baby bathing, when to call the doctor, home and toy safety, returning to work, finding a good babysitter and traveling with baby. Held from 7 to 9 p.m. on the third and fourth Wednesday of every month, this class has a $5 per couple fee. Call 257-5855 to register.

Sibling Class
 Memorial Maternity Center offers a Sibling Class to make it easier for big brothers and sisters to prepare for and accept a new baby. This class is designed for children ages 3 through 12 and meets from 7 to 8:30 p.m. on the first Monday of each month. Limited to children whose sibling will be born at Memorial Maternity Center. $2 per child fee. Class size is limited and reservations are requested. Call 257-5855.

New Family Night
 Once you have a baby, take time for an informal evening out. Meet with other new parents and a registered nurse to discuss parenting concerns and have questions answered. Held 7-8:30 p.m. on the first Monday of the month. Infants welcome; $5 per couple. Call 257-5855 to register.

Prenatal Breastfeeding Class
 This class is designed to provide vital information to those who are considering breastfeeding their baby. The class meets from 7 to 9 p.m. on the second Wednesday of every month. This class has a $5 fee per couple. Both parents are encouraged to attend. For more information, call 257-5855.

Breastfeeding Help for New Mothers
 This service addresses concerns you may have about breastfeeding after you are discharged from the hospital. Information and support will be provided for those crucial early days and weeks of nursing a newborn. There is no fee for this service. Call 257-5855 to talk with a nurse or to arrange a help session.

BOYS BASKETBALL: HOLIDAY TOURNAMENTS

Blue Devils win second straight Classic

By Jeff Stirmann
Correspondent

The Quincy Blue Devils became the first team to win the Collinsville High/Schnucks Holiday Classic for a fourth time, defeating Belleville East 71-53 in the title game New Year's Eve.

Quincy's 6-foot-6 center Luis Rivas, the Classic's most valuable player, scored 17 of his game-high 25 points in the first half as the Blue Devils jumped to a 30-12 lead.

"We weren't our normal self — we didn't have a lot of life," East coach Doug McCrory said. "I'm at a loss to explain why, but we were in a mode where we let the action come to us in the first quarter and dug ourselves a big hole."

Josh Helbig led a Belleville comeback with 10 second-half points, bringing the Lancers within two points in the third quarter. But Quincy senior Kori Douglas, last year's Classic MVP, scored eight of his 10 points in a stretch that put the game out of reach.

The Blue Devils improved to 11-1 with the victory. The Lancers suffered their first loss and are now 11-1.

"We were down by 18, 30-12 early in the second quarter and fought back (cutting Quincy's lead to 58-53 late in the fourth quarter)," McCrory said. "We had a couple good shots, but we couldn't knock them down. But you're not going to win many games getting down by that much against a good experienced team.

"Quincy is a very disciplined, sound fundamental team and they do just enough to beat you. They do the right things and hardly ever get out of control. It's good for us to play a team of that caliber because we can judge a lot about our team."

Overall, we had a pretty good tournament, and we shouldn't hang our heads because of one game. I saw some signs of good things to come."

For the second time in a day, the Blue Devils' stifling ball press, and ball-control offense dominated a more athletically talented opponent. Earlier in the day, Quincy shut down East St. Louis Lincoln and their potent front line of Darius Miles, Terrence Slater and Dewayne Watson.

Belleville East edged Collinsville 66-58 to reach the final.

Quincy has now won the tournament in back-to-back seasons. The only team to win the Classic in three consecutive seasons was Lincoln (Ill.), which won from 1985-87.

The Quincy Blue Devils rolled past East St. Louis Lincoln and Belleville East on Wednesday to complete a four-game sweep through the Collinsville/Schnucks Holiday Classic. The championship was the second in a row in the event for Quincy.

Top-seeded teams — except Manual — struggled in tournaments

By Patrick C. Heston
Staff writer

With the exception of the four-time defending large school basketball champions from Peoria Manual High School, the top seeds in a rough time in recent holiday tournaments throughout Illinois.

Manual, which has traveled traditionally to the Pontiac Holiday Tournament for the past dozen years, swept unchallenged to yet another tourney title, brushing aside 6-1 Chicago Currie 60-40 in the semifinals and crushing undefeated Joliet Central 88-67 in the title tilt. All-American Frank Williams, arguably the finest high school basketball player in the nation, netted 30 points (23 of them in the first half), grabbed 11 rebounds, distributed five assists, picked up three steals and blocked one shot to pace the Rams to the championship game win.

BOYS BASKETBALL

Despite an early season loss to Lincoln Manual came to Pontiac seeded first with Joliet Central grabbing the second seed. As holiday play unfolded, Manual was the only team to live up to its billing in major tournament action.

At the 55th annual Centralia Holiday Tournament, undefeated state-ranked Mount Vernon stumbled 62-56 to the host Orphans.

The Rams had drubbed their first three opponents by an average of 18 points an outing, but ran into serious problems against the size, speed and balance of Centralia. The Orphans had frustrated three up-tempo squads to reach the title game, including a 64-49 victory against Altamont.

Metro East teams East St. Louis Senior, Belleville West and Cahokia combined for a disappointing 2-6 record at Centralia.

At Carbondale's 34th annual extravaganza, Memphis (Tenn.) University fooled the prognosticators and took the tournament trophy out of state with a narrow 64-46 win against the host Terriers.

Memphis averaged 79 points per game, while holding opponents to an average of only 64, allowing only Carbondale closer than 24 points.

In the prestigious Proviso West Tournament, none of the four state-ranked teams finished as high as third. Unheralded Chicago Farragut, powered by 6-foot-8 senior sensation Michael Wright, shut down equally unheralded Schaumburg 67-52 in the championship clash.

Wright, who scored 25 points in the championship game, finished as the tournament's career scoring (293 points) and rebounding (169) leader, edging past Marcus Liberty in both categories.

At Collinsville, Belleville East surprised top-seeded Peoria Central 66-64 in the championship quarterfinals, opening the door for second seeded Quincy to capture its fourth Classic title.

with the Terriers. Before coming to Carbondale, he coached Metamora to a state championship in 1975 and two second-place finishes the following two seasons.

Helmick, 55, took teams to the state playoffs in 13 seasons and won 12 conference crowns, including five straight South Seven titles with Carbondale from 1988-92. Helmick, who will continue as principal at the Carbondale East Campus, posted a 5-4 record with the Terriers in 1997....

In another football coaching change, Bill Shepard was relieved of his duties at Pinckneyville after three consecutive losing seasons, leaving the coach with a four-year mark of 2-34 with the Panthers.

"We felt like the effectiveness of the program wasn't present," was the understatement of Pinckneyville Superintendent Dean Brewer.

The Panthers have not had a winning season since 1988.

World Class Gymnastics girls tops at Iron Kids Invitational

By Scott Marlon
Staff writer

Chalk up another world-class effort for the girls from World Class Gymnastics of Fairview Heights.

At the Iron Kids Invitational, Dec. 13-14 at John Burroughs High School in St. Louis, the World Class contingent placed:

- First overall in the women's category.
- First in the Level 10 team competition.
- Second and third among Level 8 squads.
- First in Level 6.
- First and second in Level 5.

The meet, which drew more than 25 teams, featured competition in men's, women's and combined categories.

"We go over there every year to start the season," said World Class coach Patrick Hurling, who is assisted by Laura Atwood, Becky Gilliland and Donna Berutti. "The kids looked like they were in midseason form."

"We did a little better than I expected. We had won different levels before, but this was the first time we won the entire meet."

In Level 10, 15-year-old Amanda Holden of O'Fallon placed second in vault and beam, first on beam, third on floor and first overall. Her twin sister, Heather, placed third on bars and beam.

Kasey Karban, 15, of Belleville, was the third member of the Level 10 team and placed first on vault, bars and floor and third all-around.

"It was the first time Amanda had competed in two years because of a hand injury," Hurling said. "She and her sister have competed for a long time. Amanda was eager to get back and she was pretty nervous about how she would do."

"Our younger kids were just outstanding. They basically won everything they entered. It was fun to take the whole team to the same meet. That only happens twice a year.

"Our Level 10 girls are going to Chicago this weekend, but our next big meet is the St. Jude Classic, Jan. 15-16 in Peoria. It's the only other meet the whole team goes to."

Individual results from the Iron Kids Invitational are listed below:

LEVEL 8

Ages 8-11: Rachel Holloway, 9, Swansea, second on bars, fourth on beam, fourth all-around; Carleigh Powers, 9, Benton, Mo., first on bars, third on beam, fourth on floor, second all-around; Jennifer Wellen, 10, Trenton, first on vault, fifth on beam, second on floor, fifth all-around; Lara Bosick, 11, Belleville, fourth on vault, fifth on bars; Ashley Tate, 11, Belleville, sixth on vault, fourth on bars, second on beam, first on floor, first all-around; Jenna Zimmer, 11, Cahokia, third on bars, sixth on beam, sixth all-around.

Tournaments an omen of state play to come

I get around at the holidays. During the holiday tournament frenzy, you're liable to find me just about anywhere in the state of Illinois.

I've seen them all — from Proviso West to Carbondale, from Pontiac to Collinsville. And in the process, I've learned some things. Proviso West runs the worst show from a logistics standpoint in that you can't buy tickets in advance. You have to leave the gym after every second game, get back in line and buy tickets for the next session. But, in their favor, they have the best press hospitality room in the state.

Pontiac, the nation's oldest continuous holiday tournament, is also its best. When it comes to tradition, atmosphere, location and quality of competition, Pontiac can't be beat.

But I've learned other things as well. I've learned, for example, that the old-timers are right.

If you want to know who's going to be around for the state tournament in March, keep an eye on the holiday tournament finalists. They muse.

"Chicago Young and Peoria Manual are still the teams to beat come March. The large school basketball tournament still runs through Peoria, in more ways than one. Manual proved once more, by scuttling a quartet of solid teams at the Pontiac Tournament and making it look easy, that it will either be the state champion for the fifth straight year — or it will take a state champion to beat them.

Young is as close to unbeatable as any team in the state in recent memory, and must be given the nod over Manual as the pre-tournament favorite. The Dolphins won the power-laden Mayor's Tournament in Chicago, getting by two of the top five teams in Illinois without being seriously challenged.

Both the Pontiac and the Mayor's Tournaments are notorious for producing state champions, as is the Proviso West Tournament in Hillside, a Chicago suburb. But don't look for

Pat Heston

Schaumburg or Chicago Farragut Proviso's 1997 finalists, to cop the top prize in March. More often than not, the dangerous team from Proviso West is a team that came up short of a trophy. Watch out for Oak Park Fenwick and Chicago King, or even Westchester St. Joseph. The Carbondale Tournament was a wash for teams from southern Illinois. The host team were the cream of the Illinois crop, but it was far from a bumper crop.

Carbondale could pull some upsets in regional and sectional action later this winter, but should be easily held in check by South Seven Conference foes Centralia and Mount Vernon. The Orphans and Rams proved themselves the class of the deep south, as they fought to the wire before Centralia claimed their own tournament crown. But Mount Vernon may be the South's best hope when push comes to shove at state tournament time.

The Collinsville tournament proved once more that Metro East teams currently do not measure up to their northern counterparts as Quincy, a state-ranked but not highly ranked team, made quick work of Belleville East in the title game. The Lancers may be the area's premier squad.

If not, that honor would go to the Edwardsville Tigers, who swept to the tournament title at Charleston. Right now, Waldo's troops are tops in the region. The state title could stay in Peoria for yet another year (after all, only a fool would sell Manual short). More likely though, the state will move back to Chicago, compliments of the Whitney Young Dolphins. One thing, however, is nearly a sure bet: the title is not coming down this way anytime soon.

GCHS teams stumble in holiday events

By Patrick C. Heston
Staff writer

When it comes to holiday basketball tournaments, Granite City High School teams have seen better days. The Lady Warriors paid a short and frustrating visit to the Mascoutah Tournament.

The girls of John Moad were hampered by eventual champion Mt. Vernon 80-35 last Monday and lost a 60-43 decision to Nashville the next afternoon. The Lady Warriors Moad will try for their second win of the season on Friday at East St. Louis. The Lady Warriors defeated the Flyers 81-22 on Dec. 16 at Memorial Gymnasium.

At the Collinsville High School/Schnucks Holiday Classic, the Granite City Warriors spluttered to a 1-2 record, losing to unbeaten Jacksonville 62-43 in Monday's opening round, then rebounding to pound Triad 64-44 on Tuesday. But the Warriors came up short against O'Fallon last Wednesday morning, falling to the Panthers 62-57. O'Fallon went on to capture consolation honors with an 18-point win against Waterloo.

The Warriors hosted Belleville West on Saturday and entertain streaking Bethalto Civic Memorial on Tuesday.

Among other area boys teams seeing action during the holidays, Madison lost to Decatur Eisenhower 75-60 in a first-round game at Collinsville, despite an electric 39 points and 15 rebounds from 6-foot-1 all-state guard Maurice Baker. The Trojans then faltered against Waterloo, losing a tight 62-60 decision.

Madison hosts Flora on Tuesday. Also at Collinsville, East St. Louis Lincoln sweeping to a pair of convincing victories, including a 68-49 rout of previously unbeaten, third-seeded Jacksonville. But the Tigers couldn't handle the ball-peddling and balanced offensive attack of Quincy, losing to the Blue Devils 48-36 in the semifinals.

Lincoln lost to Collinsville 67-57 in third-place game, and had to re-group quickly for a date with cross-town rival

East Side on Saturday. In the Centralia Holiday Tournament, Cahokia and East St. Louis Senior struggled to a cumulative 1-4 record.

The Flyers fell in the first round to Bartlett (Tenn.), 65-53. Bartlett went on to a third-place finish, holding high-scoring Alton to 31 points in a 46-31 win.

East Side was eliminated after a 62-55 loss to Champaign Central on Tuesday. Cahokia also lost an opening round game, falling 60-46 to Chicago Marist. The Comanches rebounded to bounce Salem 68-55 before losing to eventual consolation champion Chicago Mount Carmel 57-40.

Cahokia played at O'Fallon on Friday night. The Venice Red Devils won the consolation championship of the Columbus Freeburg Tournament.

The Red Devils lost to Columbia 71-58 on Saturday, but returned on Monday to begin a string of three straight wins, beating the Collinsville junior varsity (60-53), New Athens (71-52) and Freeburg (53-56).

Venice travels to Gibault on Tuesday.

HOW TO...

PLACE AN AD

There are four easy ways to place your ad:

BRING IT: 113 E. Clay St., Collinsville, IL 62234

PHONE IT: Call 344-0264

Phone lines are open from 8am-5pm Monday-Friday or call 1-800-766-FAST

3pm-5pm Mon-Thurs. 8am-1pm Sat.

FAK IT: Send your ads directly to our Classified Fax Center at (618) 344-3611. We'll call you back for confirmation.

MAIL IT: Send your ads to: Class, Collinsville Journal, 113 E. Clay Street, Collinsville, IL 62234.

PAY FOR AN AD

You will be billed immediately following last run day. You may pay in person, through the mail, or over the phone or fax. We accept cash, checks, and credit cards (MC/Visa/Discover). When paying over the phone, please have your credit card number. We'll call you back for confirmation. Please do not send cash through the mail. Some ads require prepayment.

WRITE AN AD

Capture the reader's attention with larger headlines, bold type, and symbols. Tell them up front what you're selling or seeking. Describe what is unique about your item, adding details such as color and condition. Avoid abbreviations; they make your ad harder to read and therefore less effective. Include your phone number and the hours you are available. Always include the price; it will increase your responses.

CANCEL AN AD

Deadlines for ad cancellation are identical to deadlines for ad placement. You may cancel an ad in person or over the phone. To cancel an ad, phone (618) 344-0264.

Employment

MetroLink operators must put safety first

By Steve Bryan
Correspondent

Not so very long ago, St. Louis residents who relied on public transportation normally rode the bus to work or sporting events. Traveling from the city to the county sometimes meant riding for hours and transferring from bus to bus.

Commuting in St. Louis improved in 1993, however, thanks to MetroLink, a light rail service operated by the BiState Development Agency. It provided an inexpensive and easy way to get from Downtown to the airport. MetroLink trains travel each day between Lambert International Airport and East St. Louis. Passengers also may transfer to one of the many buses that stop at the various MetroLink Stations.

For Bi-State, adding this service meant creating a position known as a light rail vehicle operator. People who choose this career are responsible for much more than driving a train.

"It's not for everybody. For the majority of people, seeing the same scenery every day bores them. I wanted a change of pace, a change in scenery. I wanted to interact with the public in a better way where I wasn't so concerned with fares."

Ronald Taylor
MetroLink operator

"It's not for everybody. For the majority of people, seeing the same scenery every day bores them," said MetroLink operator Ronald Taylor.

After 21 years as a bus operator, Taylor switched careers and became one of the original MetroLink operators in March 1993.

"I wanted a change of pace, a change of scenery," he said. "I wanted to interact with the public in a better way where I wasn't so concerned with fares."

MetroLink operators put safety first. Before operating their trains, they verify that radios, lights and signals are all in good working order.

Doors are also checked to make sure they open and close properly. While driving the light rail vehicle, a MetroLink operator monitors the proper speed, watches for hazards on the tracks and makes sure that passengers are able to enter and exit safely.

In the event of a derailment or a breakdown, operators ensure that their passengers are quickly evacuated from the train.

Operators also need good communication skills. They answer questions from passengers about fares and bus routes, talk with their supervisors and prepare written reports of accidents and other incidents.

Unlike bus drivers, MetroLink operators do not verify proper payment of fares. Fare inspectors routinely board trains and double-check that all passengers have a valid ticket, pass or transfer. The Bi-State Development Agency requires that all applicants for the position of MetroLink operator have a current valid commercial driver's license.

Applicants must be able to read and understand training materials, operating manuals and safety rules. They must successfully complete a training program and pass a drug and alcohol screening.

Although working on the same route every day might become tedious for a MetroLink operator, the tracks still offer some surprises.

"We see all kinds of wildlife. I've seen deer and turkeys," Taylor said. And although it didn't pose a problem, one of the most unusual sights Taylor has seen happened just recently.

"The week before last, I came around a curve and saw a horse on the track," he said. "Then I noticed the police officer on his back."

Use caution when dealing with references

By Steve Bryan
Correspondent

When deciding who is the best person for an open position, hiring managers at a company will turn to an applicant's personal, professional and employment references.

Human resource managers will ask anything that the reference will answer," said Deborah Kettler, director of career services at the University of Missouri-St. Louis. "They want to find out your strengths and weaknesses."

"Some of my favorite questions to ask were 'What didn't they do well?' or 'What didn't you like?' Sometimes, you'd be surprised what you'd find out by asking the right kinds of questions."

Most companies, however, will only verify salary, dates of employment and if a former employee left in good standing or not.

"But if your hiring manager is good, he'll find out what he wants to know," Kettler said. "One question can lead to another. If you find out one negative thing, chances are good that you'll find more."

Job seekers are not completely helpless during this reference checking process, however.

The hiring manager should not call a reference until they receive a written release from the applicant. In many cases, this release appears at the bottom of a job application.

Most companies will also not give out any information about an applicant over the telephone. They will ask that a company submit a request in writing along with a written release from the former employer.

All references submitted are not necessarily good references. In some cases, a friend or former co-worker may paint a less-than-flattering picture of an applicant.

"If you're the person being asked to give reference, you have to be very confident of what you're saying," Kettler said. "You have to be very confident of what you are saying if you're going to be a negative reference."

"You have to give concrete answers. It's OK to be honest, but it has to be factual. It has to be backed up," she said.

Job seekers can protect themselves from situations like these simply by asking their references if it's OK to use them as a reference. Some people just don't like to do it.
